

Best sound reproduction of the music of Ralph D. Wagnitz

For an audiophile, the best way to listen to these recordings is to use high-quality playback equipment. I have been producing professional sound recordings for over 55 years. With most music now being played over the internet the majority of standard computer speakers do not come close to accurate music reproduction. There is no substitute for a good pair of wired headphones. But most headphones today create too much bass which is not only inaccurate but dangerous to a persons' hearing.

Panasonic RPHT21 wired headphones are by far the absolute best I have found for proper sound fidelity levels of bass, midrange and high frequencies. They are very lightweight and comfortable to wear, and they cost less than $20 at Amazon, Walmart, EBay and numerous other online retailers.
